

GoodLifeMe

At Park Annual 14 Saemundur Oddsson represented the collaboration of over two-dozen professionals with one mission: To create the most entertaining and effective mobile solution to fight lifestyle disease such as obesity and diabetes type 2.

To do this, the group is developing a science-based and scientifically tested mobile solution using the state of the art in health promotion, health communication and mobile health technology. This is a novel approach by GoodLifeMe AB, one of the exciting eHealth startup companies within the Sahlgrenska Science Park incubator. GoodLifeMe are currently seeking collaborative partners and distributors.

For more information, please contact Saemundur Oddsson, saemundur@goodlifeme.com, +46 (0)70-744 54 51

GoodLifeMe is one of the interesting eHealth startups within the Sahlgrenska Science Park incubator. Sahlgrenska Science Park assists new startup companies within the life science sector in order to get the best possible start. We offer expert knowledge and experience within business management, linked with a vast network within the business sector and related sectors in life science. eHealth is a growing market, with places specific demands on developers regarding regulatory and ethical questions, data management regulations, business models etc. At Sahlgrenska Science Park we offer specific support to these companies within our own expertise and through our extensive networks both regionally, nationally and internationally.

SAHLGRENSKA SCIENCE PARK